Beach Road Bids

Supervisors May Award Contract In February

Bid advertisements for beach road repair have been authorized for publication starting this week in the Echo, by action of the board of supervisors Monday.

County engineer Larry Seal informed supervisors Monday that approval had been given by Frank Moore, engineer for the State Aid Division of Roads. Bids for the project will be opened February 15 at 10 a.m. in the court house. A $20 non-refundable deposit is required on the bid package, which calls for "repairs of 7,674 miles of beach road between Clermont Harbor and Second St. in Bay St. Louis. Work is to consist of repair of protective cover meeting in February.

The board appointed beat five supervisor James Travira, coordinator for the newly adopted food stamp program for the county. Travira will work with county welfare officer Mrs. Victor Frankiewicz to expedite the implementation of administrative and physical facilities for the program. Chancery Clerk John Rutherford reminded the board of the need for an immediate appraisal of the court house as insurance coverage on the building expires the 28th of this month.

Only one bid was received for the purchase of a motor grader to replace a similar machine in beat two. Mississippi Road Supply Co. in Jackson submitted the lone bid of $31,628 for the machine with a net price of $30,000. The bid allowed $1,628 as a trade price on the old Gallon motor grader now in use. Beat two supervisor Dolph Kellar questioned the legality of "trading equipment as opposed to selling", although the original bid advertisement stated "also for sale or trade of old motor grader". Board attorney Ruble Griffin, after checking state laws pertinent to equipment purchases assured Kellar that this form of negotiation was acceptable.

The board ratified a resolution by the Port and Harbor Commission to install a locking safety device on industrial park water tower ladders at a cost of $1,650. The new safety device is required by recently published safety regulations. A claims docket for partial payment on Port and Harbor development projects, to be submitted to Economic Development Admin., was also approved by supervisors.

Bay Property Owners Protest Assessment

Approximately 30 to 40 Bay St. Louis residents filled the council room at city hall Monday to protest the taxes they have been assessed to pay for a street paving program.

Property owners who came under the special paving program adopted by the previous administration must pay a total of $3 per front foot plus interest over the next ten years. Those who complained before January 1, 1972 were not required to pay the interest.

Finance commissioner Andre Arceneaux told the group that every effort had been made to relieve property owners of this burden. However, in referring to a letter from the state attorney general, Arceneaux said, "It looks as though there is no possible way out."

PARKER REPORTS
Marine Lance Corporal Albert M. Parker Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Parker Sr. of Route 1, Bay Saint Louis, Miss., has reported for duty with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa.

ceneaux also emphasized that he was willing to explore every possible suggestion from anyone to try and solve this problem.

Property owners also complained that the streets which had been paved were now filled with potholes and cracks. When the council realized that Tuesday, January 18 was the last day that the contractor was to be paid, the council decided to postpone the paving program until after the new year.

Most of the complaints centered around the fact that the streets were not returned to their original condition prior to the installation of the water and sewerage system. Arceneaux said, however, that he felt that this was not a stipulation in the contract with Gulf Paving Co. which performed the work for the city.

Missing Girl Sought

Bay St. Louis police have received a report of a 15-year-old white female runaway from Memphis, Tenn. The girl's name is Jo Moore and when last seen, she was wearing blue jeans and a red long sleeve shirt. She is four feet, eleven inches tall, weighs 90 pounds and has long brown hair and blue eyes. Memphis police have reason to believe she is in the Bay St. Louis area. Anyone having information concerning the whereabouts of this girl are asked to notify the Bay police department, or chief Robert Goodsell.

Distinguished Service Award Presented To Earl Ladner

by Adoree Shortle

State representative Earl (Buck) Ladner was the recipient of the Jaycees annual Distinguished Service Award for 1971 at ceremonies in Waveland Monday night.

A large crowd attended the banquet held to present awards for community service. As well as the Distinguished Service Award, plaques were given for Outstanding Young Educator, Boss of the Year, Physical Fitness and Outstanding Young Farmer.

A special award was given for the first time by the organization to honor Mrs. Arnette Giles of Pearl River, recently named a citationist for top award by the National Center for Voluntary Action in Washington.

Jaycee president James Necaise presented awards to the following: Bro. Eduardo Baldoceca of St. Stanislaus, Outstanding Young Educator; James Rester, Boss of the Year; J. E. Loiacano, Physical Fitness Leadership; Norman Ferguson, Outstanding Young Farmer. Rester has twice before been cited by Jaycee chapters for community service or accomplishment. Some years ago he received the Outstanding Young Farmer award in Bay St. Louis and more recently Picayune Jaycees named him Boss of the Year.

Buck Ladner was cited by the group for his work in law enforcement, for organizing and training junior deputies and as a peace justice in Hancock County.

In explaining the choice of award recipients, Nicholas Haas, banquet chairman and master of ceremonies said, "We aren't attempting to honor Jaycees but rather to commend those citizens who have contributed to the betterment of their community."

One Jaycee was an award recipient, however, when James Calhoun was named as Jaycee of the month for December.

Guest speaker was Keith Tonkel, former Bay St. Louis native and now pastor of Wells United Methodist Church in Jackson. A dynamic young minister, Tonkel defined the role of a leader in today's world and said that he felt the youth of the nation are especially in need of good leadership. Sympathetic to some of the complaints of today's youth, Tonkel said "they need more examples and less critics."

Some of us, he said, "are the biggest critics and the worst examples. That's why we need leaders who can think things through, and think deeply."

"We need leaders who can lead and not wait for somebody else to do it."

Referring to the laughter that followed some of his humorous remarks, Tonkel said "It's good to be able to share loving and laughter, especially at times like this when we're honoring people who have been self-giving."

He quoted a remark by another minister who said we're living in two worlds - one dying and the other struggling to be born. He agreed with this population, saying "There is a need for the birth of new moral values."

On radical college students and the prevalent attitude which holds that good grades and a college degree constitute education, he said forcefully, "That's not all there is to education. Education is being alive to the world - being able to see, and hearing when there's something to hear. And feeling deeply when there's something to feel."

A particularly moving young speaker, Tonkel received a spontaneous standing ovation at the conclusion of his talk.

St. Stanislaus Plans Reunion

The St. Stanislaus Alumni Association will hold its annual alumni reunion this Saturday. This "alumni get-together" will take place in New Orleans at the Grand Ballroom of the Fontainebleau Motor Hotel starting at 7:30 p.m. Many of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart and faculty members who have taught at St. Stanislaus in the past will be in attendance.

This year the Alumni Association will honor five classes in particular - namely, those classes celebrating a ten year period since their graduation (classes of '62, '42, '22, and '02) and the class celebrating their twenty-fifth year of graduation (class of 1947). Certificates recognizing the time since their graduation will be given to those alumni of the "honor classes" who are in attendance. The 1947 alumnae class of St. Joseph's Academy in Bay St. Louis will be guests at this reunion.

Board Designates Flood Plain District

Flood Plain District

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

In an eleven hour action Monday, supervisors adopted a resolution designating a flood plain district in certain areas of the county, making flood insurance coverage available to property owners in those districts.

Although board president Alton Kellar warned the board that Monday was the deadline for taking action, beat one supervisor Jerry Ladner reiterated previous objections saying "I don't think this is necessary. Without it we can still get any government help we need."

Volney Cline, Jr., assistant director of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission, presented a special emergency resolution drawn up by that organization, setting forth the establishment, delineation and control of a flood plain district for Hancock County.

Cline explained that this plan and the regional land use plan for land preservation are similar and although this plan has been tailored to the county, it is also adaptable for Waveland and Bay St. Louis. Intent of the resolution is to comprise within the district those areas which are subject to inundation from "stream overflows or tidal conditions" and therefore unsuitable for residential, commercial or industrial use.

Flood plain district covers those areas of the county below the elevation of 12.5 feet above sea level. According to the resolution any residential, commercial or industrial buildings in these areas must be located on landfill or pilings or some method employed to bring the structure to a safe elevation, unless otherwise approved by the County Planning Commission.

Fathers, Sons Operate Area Burglary Ring

Hancock County sheriff's deputies have uncovered an unusual burglary ring led by two fathers and their juvenile sons.

Several arrests have been made and there are "more to come", according to investigating deputy sheriffs Fairley Necaise and James Ladner.

Ivan Robling, Sr., 50, his 16-year-old son and two other juveniles were arrested Jan. 3 following a burglary in the Santa Rosa community. Frank Frierson of Southern Sand Service Co. told Necaise and Ladner that a company equipment trailer had been broken into over the New Year's weekend and a number of articles stolen.

Robling and the youths fled to Pearl River county where they were arrested in possession of some of the stolen articles. They were returned to Hancock County and jailed on suspicion of theft. Under interrogation by Necaise the juveniles readily admitted to a series of burglaries committed over the past four months in Hancock and Pearl River counties as well as various locations in Louisiana.

In a signed confession, Robling's son admitted to stealing from the Santa Rosa trailer a set of cutting torches, one set of gauges, a 75-foot hose, a 20-ton jack and a 12-volt battery. His companions described selling several of the stolen articles in various places in the two counties mentioned.

The youths also implicated two other men with whom they had allegedly committed other thefts. The juveniles named Lewis E. Myers and J. D. Lynchard, both of whom are serving sentences in Louisiana jails. Myers' juvenile son, according to the youths, also had worked with his father and the group.

At their direction, Necaise recovered numerous stolen articles which the ring had hidden, including parts of a truck stolen from Roane Flying Service in Abbeville, La. Investigation of the truck theft led to the arrest of Alex Bennett and a 17-year-old male companion, both Hancock County residents. Bennett and the apple in particular. Here's one of the easiest, tastiest apple cobbler recipes ever.

Apple-Raisin Cobbler starts with canned apple pie filling. Raisins contribute natural sweetness, while grated lemon peel heightens the overall flavor. The topping couldn't be simpler. A mixture of complete pancake mix and sugar is sprinkled over the fruit, then melted butter is drizzled over the top.

Serve the warm cobbler topped with vanilla ice cream and you'll rate A's for approval.

APPLE-RAISIN COBBLER

Makes 6 servings

One 1 lb. 5-oz. can apple pie filling
1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon peel

1/2 cup complete pancake mix
1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted

Heat oven to moderate (375°F.). Combine pie filling, raisins and lemon peel in 8-inch square pan; blend well. Place complete pancake mix and sugar in small bowl; blend well. Sprinkle evenly over apple base. Drizzle with melted butter. Bake in preheated oven (375°F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream.

"A is for apple" is one of the basics of nursery school learning. . . And one of the basics of home baking is fruit cobbler.

In less than 24 hours he found himself on the podium conducting the company's New York debut. The unprecedented success of this performance led to his engagement as the ballet's music director and permanent conductor during the following two seasons, for which he received high acclaim from the press.

Two Killed In Auto Accident

Two men died as a result of an automobile accident Sunday night on Highway 603, near Hancock North Central High School.

According to Hancock County sheriff's deputy James Ladner, Howard Williams, 59, driving a 1964 Pontiac, was travelling south on Highway 603 when he crossed the center line, colliding head-on with another automobile driven by Robert Sumerall, 31, of Poplarville, Miss.

Ladner said he found Sumerall thrown from his car and in critical condition. Ladner had to pull the Pontiac apart to release Williams who was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital. Williams was a Biloxi resident. Sumerall was taken by ambulance to Gulfport Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted in critical condition. Biloxi police officer John Lester notified families of both men. Sumerall died Monday morning of injuries received in the accident.

'North Country' - - For The Entire Family

has been designated as administrative and enforcing agency to carry out the purposes of the resolution and is empowered to adopt a plan for the implementation of the land use program.

Ladner questioned that adopting the plan would assure property owners' eligibility for flood insurance. Board attorney Rubie Griffin was directed to call Nicholas Lally, Federal Insurance Administration official in Washington, for acceptance of the plan before the board took action.

When he returned to the board room, Griffin said that the plan was acceptable to the administration and that he had explained to Lally that adoption of the resolution is "no more than a statement of purpose and that he understands this is only a resolution, not an ordinance." Griffin further explained that the resolution in no way represented a building code, and that the county can work on more specific requirements later.

Adoption of the resolution was passed by affirmative vote by all supervisors except Ladner, who abstained from voting.

'North Country' - For The Entire Family

"North Country," is an outdoor, color, action-adventure motion picture about the exploits of modern-day Alaskan trapper, Jeff Graham. This exciting film, shot entirely on location, follows woodman Graham through one year of his life as he camps in the frozen wilds of the far north country trapping beaver, fox, and muskrat. In this true-to-life feature, Graham pans gold and serves as a backcountry guide over some of Alaska's roughest terrain to earn just enough to pay for what little he needs from civilization. Otherwise, he lives off the land, hunting only out of necessity.

None of the characters in "North Country" are actors. These are all real Alaskans portraying their real lives. Ron Hayes filmed, directed, and appears in "North Country." He has masterfully captured on film this land's magnificent scenery, rare wildlife, and unique people.

"North Country," G-rated, is a Rainbow Adventure film, released by American National Enterprises, the company that brought you "Cougar Country." This is the unique motion picture firm dedicated to presenting only all-family entertainment to the public. The movie will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Star Theatre in Bay St. Louis.

has been designated as administrative and enforcing agency to carry out the purposes of the resolution and is empowered to adopt a plan for the implementation of the land use program.

Ladner questioned that adopting the plan would assure property owners' eligibility for flood insurance. Board attorney Rubie Griffin was directed to call Nicholas Lally, Federal Insurance Administration official in Washington, for acceptance of the plan before the board took action.

When he returned to the board room, Griffin said that the plan was acceptable to the administration and that he had explained to Lally that adoption of the resolution is "no more than a statement of purpose and that he understands this is only a resolution, not an ordinance". Griffin further explained that the resolution in no way represented a building code, and that the county can work on more specific requirements later.

Adoption of the resolution was passed by affirmative vote by all supervisors except Ladner, who abstained from voting.

Two Killed In Auto Accident

Two men died as a result of an automobile accident Sunday night on Highway 603, near Hancock North Central High School.

According to Hancock County sheriff's deputy James Ladner, Howard Williams, 59, driving a 1964 Pontiac, was travelling south on Highway 603 when he crossed the center line, colliding head-on with another automobile driven by Robert Sumrell, 31, of Poplarville, Miss.

Ladner said he found Sumrell thrown from his car and in critical condition. Ladner had to pull the Pontiac apart to release Williams who was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital. Williams was a Biloxi resident. Sumrell was taken by ambulance to Gulfport Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted in critical condition. Biloxi police officer John Lester notified families of both men. Sumrell died Monday morning of injuries received in the accident.

WRONG NAME

In last week's Echo in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Theresa Bailey and Norbert Shiyon, the groom's late father was incorrectly listed as Crayton Ladner. The name should have read the late Crayton Shiyon.

Family Medical Record Offers Important Health Guidance

By EVE WENGLER

Ever wish that you had a family health record, easy to read and complete with the facts you should have on hand? The National Foundation-March of Dimes, in conjunction with the American Medical Association and Woman's Day magazine, has devised an important new tool to make keeping track of a family's medical history simple and clear. It is a four-page form called the Family Medical Record and, when kept up to date, it becomes a valuable document upon which both the family and physician will depend. It provides a quick, comprehensive profile of each family member's health status as well as a record of possible contributing factors in certain conditions.

The Record, accompanied by an article by Dr. Virginia Apgar, the Foundation's vice president for medical affairs, appears in the January issue of Woman's Day, currently available.

Ideally, the Medical Record should be started before a couple marries, so that when the woman becomes pregnant, the doctor before her doctor will already have information about her health history and background and that of her husband, and their parents, sisters and brothers.

Family Data
Since many conditions may follow a definite genetic pattern, awareness of a disease in one member of the family may alert a doctor to early symptoms in time to avert advanced disease or disability. The age of the family member when the disease first appeared is relevant to the when or severity of some disorders and should be recorded.

So should his or her line of work, since some occupations expose workers to environmental factors which affect health. For example, a brother-in-law's chronic lung condition might be related to asbestos inhaled in his work at construction sites; a sister's miscarriages might be related to her work involving anesthetics.

But it is not just poor health or disease that should be recorded on the form. Information about good health also

One woman to another: Dr. Virginia Apgar shows Karen Schick how the Medical Record will help her keep track of her family's health.

Child Health
Details of each child's birth should be carefully noted as should incomplete pregnancies, abortion, or stillbirth. The form has instructions about when children should be vaccinated for rubella (German measles), diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, regular measles, smallpox, and all the various boosters. It provides space for an immunization record; periodic physical examinations; medications; allergies; and a record of family illnesses.

Diagnostic Tool
Dr. Apgar developed the widely used Apgar score, which rates newborn babies' respiration, muscle tone, re-

WHAT HAPPINESS IS
You know that each Beatitudes begins with the word "Blessed." You have probably learned that the word means "happy." But the kind of happiness Jesus meant by "Blessed" is bigger than our usual idea of being happy.

In the dictionary we find "happy" defined with such words as contented, glad, delighted, fortunate, joyful, cheerful. All of these words are synonymous with happiness, yet none of them fully expresses the meaning when he used the word "Blessed."

Blessed is a much bigger, much more encompassing word than happy, as we usually use it. Do not most people connect happiness with circumstances, things and other people?

Think of some genuinely happy people you know. Do they live exactly where they want to live? Do they have everything they want? Do they belong to the best clubs? Do any of these things assure a person of lasting true happiness?

Let's think of "Blessed" as Jesus used it. Blessedness is a state of being happy regardless of circumstances. Blessedness is growing in a right relationship with God. This experience results in right relationships with other people. It results in knowing how to live with yourself and like it.

With this explanation of the kind of happiness Jesus meant, read J.B. Phillips' interpretation of the Beatitudes: CHANCEARY SUMMONS

BROADCASTING TIME AND FERTILIZER
Broadcast application of fertilizer and lime saves time and money for both the farmer and fertilizer dealer, but only if it is distributed in a manner to give the yield increase that it should.

A large percentage of the fertilizer spread broadcast is not uniformly distributed, causing large variation in plant growth and yields of both row crops and pastures.

Some ways for farmers and dealers to improve the distribution pattern include using good equipment in good condition and properly adjusted. Lapping the swath by one-third will also help.

Under field conditions it is often hard for the driver to determine swath width. It is a good idea to have a flagman at each end of the field to make sure that swaths overlap properly.

Under most field conditions, spreader equipment should not be run faster than six miles per hour.

BETTER FARMING
Now is the time to prepare for the 1972 crops. Some steps to take now to help insure a better year than last year are:

First study your farm resources, labor needs, equipment and markets, then set some goals.

How much money do you want to make? What yield level can be expected from the crops you plant? It seems reasonable to set goals for 40 bushels of soybeans per acre, 4,000 pounds of lint cotton per acre, 400 pounds minimum weaning weights per calf or if you are growing hogs, eight pigs per litter. Give yourself a target to shoot at.

Plan now what is actually needed to reach the goals you have set. Then put the plan in action.

Look around your milking barn and loafing area. Got lots of mud? Maybe it would be a good idea to plan to pour more concrete next summer.

Try giving your cows a little extra grain and see if their production does not go up.

Be sure that your milking equipment is operating properly and make sure that your cows are milked properly. Take some time, maybe an hour a month or so, to study your DHIA reports. These records do you no good unless you use them.

Take another few hours to study the various bull books and pick bulls to use in your herd that will improve the milking ability of the daughters.

The Forgotten Coast

The Gulf Coast has been ignored again. More specifically, the Harrison County house delegation was ignored when committee chairmen were appointed Tuesday.

When will the rest of Mississippi stop treating the coast as a stepchild? Harrison County is the second largest populated area in the state and in the 1970 census, Biloxi was listed as the second largest city in Mississippi.

Because Hancock County now has a freshman delegate in the House, we could not have hoped to receive a chairmanship. However, ignoring our sister county affects the future of the entire coast and was a slap in the face to the people of this area.

Where is our university? The one that was planned for the Gulf Park College site in Long Beach? As of now, it appears to be in the same state as the rest of the coast—in limbo.

Perhaps Harrison and Hancock counties should unite to fight for those things that rightfully belong to the Gulf Coast—mainly forcing the rest of the state to accept the importance of the coast in the future of Mississippi.

During last year's election, candidates flocked to the coast seeking support. Now that the election is over, it appears that we will once again be forgotten. We cannot let this happen.

Report from capitol

NEWS FROM SENATOR
Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) has received assurances that his appeal for eliminating foreign trade barriers against U. S. agricultural products will be given "foremost attention."

Treasury Secretary John Connally has told Eastland that elimination or reduction of foreign barriers are "high on the list of factors" that U. S. negotiators will keep in mind in dealing with America's trading partners.

Calling Eastland's appeal "timely," Connally added that "you can be confident that your concerns are being given foremost attention." Acting as the representative of one of the nation's leading agricultural exporting states, Eastland has asked Connally to give "close attention" to what he termed "unreasonable" export trade barriers.

"Over the years, elimination or reduction of these barriers has been secondary to other objectives of our government," Eastland said. "The result has been that American farmers, the most efficient food producers in the world, are denied access to many markets they could serve to the mutual advantage of all concerned."

Eastland added that the President's 10 percent surcharge and recent monetary realignment "provides the vehicle with which to achieve equitable agricultural trade arrangements" with other countries.

The Senator particularly singled out the barrier to live feeder cattle and beef entry into Japan and Europe.

"Connally agreed, saying in a recent speech, he had 'cited this very point as an example of unfair treatment American farmers receive in world markets.'"

Eastland expressed "sincere hope" that future trade negotiations will benefit America's agricultural exporters.

Furthermore, certain employers may be held liable because of an extra duty they owe the public. For example, a railroad had to pay damages after an amorous conductor forced several kisses on a reluctant woman passenger.

To be sure, kissing passengers was not within the scope of a conductor's job. But the court said that the railroad, as a public carrier, owed an extra duty to protect its passengers from harm—a duty which in this case it had clearly not performed.

Reflections.....

BEACH BOULEVARD, BAY ST. LOUIS as it looked 40 years ago. Remember when you could walk, drive and even see the beach road? In a state of disrepair since 1935, the beach road will be under renovation soon as supervisors begin advertising for bids this week in the Echo. The first phase of the project, from Clermont Harbor to N. Second St., must be completed within 200 working days.

Additional Funds Given Farmer Assistance Program

Hancock County farmers should be able to accomplish more soil and water conservation and carry out additional pollution prevention and abatement practices in 1972 than they did in 1971, according to R. H. Bloodworth, County Executive Director of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

The ASCS official said recent action by Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Buttz in announcing an additional $55.4 million for the 1972 Rural Environmental Assistance Program will result in an additional $37,000 for Mississippi. This will make a total 1972 REAP allocation for Mississippi of $3,350,000, and should mean a total allocation to Hancock County of $9,823. This compares with an allocation of $8,388 for the 1971 REAP. Mr. Bloodworth explained that this additional allocation will enable us to help farmers do more to prevent or abate agriculture-related pollution of water, land, and air, and to conserve agricultural soil, water, woodland, and wildlife resources. He said Secretary Buttz had cited the response of farmers and ranchers to the re-directed emphasis of REAP in 1971, and their willingness to match, or exceed, additional Federal investments in pollution prevention and abatement, as a major factor in providing the additional funds for REAP in 1972. An October report from selected States showed a 400 percent increase in 1971 over 1970 in funds to be expended for pollution abatement practices, according to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Farmers are invited to stop in the county ASCA office to discuss their conservation problems.

Bay Police Make Litter Reports

Neither boy has given police an address.

Three of four hunting dogs, stolen from a residence in the Anner community, have been recovered by deputy sheriff Fairley-Necaise. The theft was reported by Charles Spiers, Jr., caretaker of the Anner property, who told Necaise the dogs had been missing since January 3.

The sheriff's department has recovered a 1963 Ford truck stolen January 3 from Blossman Gas Co. on Highway 90. Responding to a call that the truck was seen abandoned on S. Dorgenois St. in New Orleans, deputy sheriff Ronnie Peterson and Nolan Kingston, Blossman Gas Co. manager, went to New Orleans and identified the vehicle. New Orleans police released the truck to Kingston.

Sheriff's deputies are investigating a burglary reported by Edward Doskey, who told police that his residence on Highway 603 had been broken into through a rear door, and a quantity of articles including food, bed sheets, a spread and bath towels had been stolen.

Bay St. Louis responded to 60 calls in the week of January 11 through 19. The resident of 104 Boardman Ave. reported that her home had been broken into. Ptn. Harris Boudreaux is investigating the incident.

Also last week, Bay police assisted Long Beach police in the return of two juvenile runaways.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling
City-County Library Writer

Until less than a hundred years ago, the State of Mississippi possessed one of the world's most beautiful and unusual natural phenomena: millions of acres of almost unbroken virgin forests. As late as seventy years ago, one lumberman who owned large blocks of southern timber wrote, "In my opinion there is not other forest under the canopy of heaven that can compare with it."

The tall, straight pine trees, in what was known as the Pine Woods section of the State, stretched with only a few breaks from Louisiana clear across to Alabama and from the shores of the Gulf northward for more than 150 miles. People were few in this vast area, only a few small settlements and scattered farms intruding on the miles of splendid trees. Water was so plentiful in the section, barring occasional short droughts, that the ground was almost always wet and consequently there were few forest fires, and these were small and did very little damage to the growth.

Here was an area like a rich, untouched gold country, waiting the prospectors; as one writer put it, "the Mississippi lumber industry was poised on the threshold of a new era of expansion."

ling fallow for more than a hundred years, it suddenly boomed with activity. Thousands of skilled workers and capitalists carved out settlements at strategic points in the forests and a score of towns sprang up overnight. A huge mill was built at Kiln, and a town of hundreds of houses, stores, a large hotel and amusement places appeared where a few months previously only a straggling of homes hid in the dense forest. Lumberton appeared like magic on the Pearl and immediately scores of ships were carrying away thousands of logs to New Orleans and foreign ports. Laurel and Hattiesburg grew swiftly from small villages to substantial towns and became among the largest lumber producing centers of the State. Wiggins, Moss Point, Furlis, Lucedale and Hattiesburg were immediate beneficiaries of the boom, as were Gainesville and Napoleon.

Naturally, the entire South Mississippi country profited. If a town had no sawmill, money leaked into it for supplies and services, and settlers came to start businesses; schools and churches were established by the score and prosperity was the order of the day from about 1890 to 1907.

SPACE and AERONAUTICS

OFFSHORE OIL

WASHINGTON — Safer and pollution-free offshore oil and gas operations may be possible through using engineering techniques developed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's reliability and quality control engineers.

The Department of Interior's U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) believes a recent study of offshore operations by a team of NASA specialists offers a number of "good suggestions" for strengthening and improving drilling and production operations on the outer continental shelf.

Although entirely different from operations in space, each offshore oil and gas platform is a very complicated electrical, mechanical, and hydraulic system which must perform reliably to avoid accidents and pollution to the marine and coastal environment. Currently, there are over 1,800 drilling and production platforms in the Gulf of Mexico.

Actions which the team recommend to be taken by government and industry include:

A Working Prescription for Fighting Inflation

While President Nixon is bemoaning the high cost of living, the independent retail pharmacist has been doing the job for years. It may come as a surprise, but as the cost of medical care is going sky-high, the price of prescription drugs sold through your retail druggist has actually dropped.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Consumer Price Index rose 24% for all goods and services and 68% for medical care from 1960 through 1970. But prescription drug prices went down 10% during the last decade. It's true that the cost of the average prescription rose about 20%, but that's because physicians are now combining larger doses and larger quantities of drugs in a single prescription than in the past. If prescription drug prices had risen at the same rate as other goods, the cost would have declined 50%.

ADD TO THIS THE REMARKABLE improvement in the effectiveness of the newer drugs and it becomes obvious that at least here—the consumer—is getting a better buy for his dollar. The drug manufacturers have done their part, of course. But as the dispensers of these medicines, we have done more than our share to hold the line on costs. Your retail pharmacist has always served his community in every way possible, as we are pleased that we have been able to do so much in the past few years.

KEEP IT CLEAN

Know how you feel. Can't wait to get into your nice warm house on a bitter cold day. But for some unknown reason, your house isn't quite so warm as you anticipate. So off you go, into the kitchen, to turn on the gas range or oven, to heat your poor little house like a teapot.

Well, don't do it. Think a cup of hot tea instead. Then, go see why your heating system is not operating at maximum efficiency. First of all, check the furnace filter. If it's clogged and dirty, your hard-working furnace doesn't have a chance. Think of a dirty filter as a gag over the mouth of your furnace. See what we mean? Change it or clean it—NOW. Then, make a resolution to housekeep your furnace filter several times each winter. You'll be far more comfortable, your furnace will work harder, faster, and best of all, you'll be doing your part to help conserve precious natural fuel.

Highway Department Schedules Interstate 10 Paving Project

Mississippi's State Highway Commission has scheduled eight construction projects for letting Tuesday, January 25, according to E. L. Boteler, Director.

Boteler said the Department, with the beginning of this letting, will again begin letting projects completely financed by the state's 300 million dollar bond program. Under law the Commission is forbidden to let contracts the last six months of an election year using one hundred per cent state funds. Projects scheduled to be let on the Interstate system this month are on Interstate 10, which runs across the Mississippi Gulf Coast from the Alabama Line to the Louisiana Line and Interstate 20 which connects Meridian and Vicksburg across the center of the state.

A section of I-10 from the Wolfe River to Three Rivers Road, a seven mile stretch in Harrison County, is scheduled for letting and will complete I-10 from the Mississippi-Louisiana Line to Highway 49 north of Gulfport. Upon completion of paving, thirty five miles of new Interstate highway can be placed in full use.

The Interstate is now paved and in use from the East Pearl River Bridge to Highway 607, a 2.3 mile stretch and an additional 24.3 miles are now being paved. Seven interchanges will serve surrounding roads and are Highway 607, 608 and 49. Connecting roads in this group are Kiln-DeLisle Road, Red Creek Road, Canal Road and a road approximately one mile east of the Jordan River.

On Interstate 20, a sixteen mile project for placement of signs, pavement markers and guard rail is scheduled between Clinton and Vicksburg in Hinds and Warren Counties.

On Highway 45 at Corinth, construction of grading, drainage, bituminous pavement and erosion control of three miles is scheduled in Alcorn County.

A project between the Mississippi-Tennessee Line and Byhalia in DeSoto County is scheduled for construction of grading, drainage, bituminous and concrete pavement, fencing, box-bridge-and-erosion control of nine miles of Highway 78.

On Highway 11, between Highway 49 and Pine Street in Forrest County at Hattiesburg, a reconstruction contract that will upgrade that part of the city's business route to a four lane facility, is to be let. This project is a grade, drain and pave project essentially converting the presently heavily traveled two lane route to a safer, more modern four lane facility with increased structural as well as traffic capacity. Single-lanes, plus curbs and gutters will be added on each side of the two existing lanes and then the entire four lanes will be paved.

A widening and overlay project is planned for eight miles of Highway 6 between the east end of the Highway 6 Bypass and Denmark Road in Lafayette County.

Between Elizabeth Street and Highway 6 in Tupelo, in Lee County, construction of widening and overlay of one mile of Highway 78 is to be let.

In Lee County, a three mile widening and overlay project on Highway 78 between Tupelo and Sherman is scheduled for this month's letting.

Club Team Prepares For Red Heads

Those colorful, sensational, and very exciting All American RED HEADS Basketball team are slated to be in Bay St. Louis on Thursday, January 27.

The RED HEADS, Queens of big time basketball and undisputed world champion women's basketball team, will be appearing through the sponsorship of the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club.

The RED HEADS, a truly great attraction, will meet the St. Stanislaus men, all members of the Sideline Club. The game will be played under men's rules. Last season the RED HEADS played 203 games, all against men's teams. The RED HEADS won 169 of these games.

The RED HEADS feature top girl basketball talent found anywhere. "Living it up on the court" has been their trade mark, and "How They Play the Game" has become their way of life.

The All American RED HEADS make this attraction great, and thousands of basketball fans have turned out to see them. Gilbert Gayant, president of the Sideline Club, stated that the club was most fortunate to get this much sought after attraction to appear in Bay St. Louis.

The game will be played in the Bay Senior High Tigerdome and a capacity crowd is expected. Tickets for this event can be purchased at many of the local business establishments, at the school or from any member of the Sideline Club.

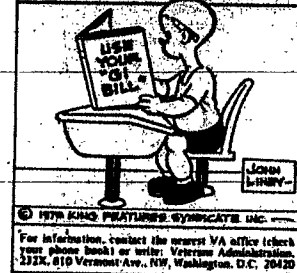

The early purchase of tickets will allow you to avoid the long lines and long wait at the box office on the night of the game. Prices set for this game by the All American RED HEAD organization are $1.00 for grammar school students and $1.50 for high school students and adults.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wymer of Waveland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stroud, also of Waveland, for the weekend at the Alexander Motel, Alexandria, La., where they viewed the Super Bowl game on T. V.

Scouts Plan Camp On Hancock Site

The first Kick Off of the New Orleans Area Boy Scout Camp Development Program to raise $1,350,000 for a new Scout camp was held yesterday with breakfast at Brennan's. John G. Phillips, President of Louisiana and Exploration Company, and Chairman of the Primary Gifts Division, urged volunteer committees to begin their solicitation without delay.

Harry M. England, Scout Council President, commented regarding the Scout Camp Development Program. "We are seeking not just the support of a worthy cause, but rather an absolutely essential need for building a new Scout camp to allow camping for all Scouts." Hoyt Hunt, Council Scout executive, pointed out the present camping facilities at Camp Salmen, while ideal, are not large enough to handle all boys who want to attend. Camp Salmen will continue to be fully utilized, however.

When completed in 1973 the new 1500 acre camp located in Hancock County, Mississippi, will accommodate over 2500 additional Scout campers during the ten week camp period.

Assisting Phillips as Vice Chairman are Robert H. Boh, W. A. Carpenter, C. C. Clifton, Jr., William R. Bell, Harry M. England, Floyd Lewis, and L. C. Montgomery, Jr.

Active campaigning will be conducted between now and the end of May, although a 36 month pledge payment period has been established.

Buy a dog from a breeder who is a member of the American Quarter Horse Association. Buy a dog from a breeder who is a member of the American Quarter Horse Association.

Take stock in America.

So You're Going to Buy a Dog!

When your family is in the market for a new dog, it's wise to take thought in choosing the breed. For instance, the "favorite dog" you grew up with might not be suitable for a family with young children. Or, it might not be suitable for your particular living space now. Dogs come in all shapes and sizes. The question of which breed to buy is always a problem, though you might say an interesting and pleasant problem. The biggest dogs are in general the most gentle. The smallest dogs are in general the shyest. Somewhere in between the two extremes—if you don't feel the extremes are right for your family—is a happy medium.

Other things to consider are the length of hair and amount of shedding, an important point to many mothers; and the number and ages of children in the household and how easy or difficult it will be for a new puppy to adjust. Here are just a few breed examples. Get the facts about many others from your veterinarian, local breeders and the American Kennel Club, 51 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10010. Don't be hasty. Remember, you're adopting a new member of your family.

Plastics, which are man-made materials, can be divided into two main types - thermoset and thermoplastic.

Both types of plastic can be used in a variety of forms including fibers and yarns, opaque or transparent solids, sheets and films, and flexible or rigid foams. Both types can look very similar to one another.

The main difference between thermoset plastics and thermoplastics is their reaction to heat. Once hardened, thermoset plastics cannot be remelted and reformed but thermoplastics can.

Thermoset plastics may warp or crack, but they do not become soft and pliable as they become warmer. They can be used in hot water and in general will withstand temperatures to about 300 degrees Fahrenheit. They cannot be used in direct contact with heat. Handles of cooking utensils and many plastic dishes as well as counter tops are often made from these plastics.

Thermoplastics become soft when heated and stiffen when cooled. This chain takes place as often as the process is repeated. Some kitchen utensils and tableware made from these plastics may be damaged in a dishwasher, though others will be able to tolerate the high temperatures. Other household articles in this group are floor coverings, curtains, draperies and upholstery fabrics.

In both groups are many products that are resistant to breakage, scratching, staining and chemical action. Unless the label gives other information, these precautions are important.

-Wash with soap or detergent, rinse and dry at once.

-A damp cloth will often do the cleaning job.

-Avoid using abrasive

powders; do not slide rough objects over surfaces.

-Wipe up spills of household cleaners promptly to avoid possible damage to surfaces.

Handle rigid articles with care. They may break easily or warp if they become too hot.

Thieves Market May Have Imported Goods

William G. Gaudet, retired magazine publisher and organizer of the Waveland Senior Citizens Association, left this week on a tour of all Central America in behalf of the "Thieves Market" which will open next month.

Allen Champagne, president of the senior citizens group, in announcing the trip, said that Gaudet, who has many personal contacts in each of the Central American Republics, would set up arrangements to get special imports from the various countries which can be sold in the "Thieves Market."

Aim of the trip is to establish contacts so that the new market can get a continuous flow of Indian textiles, women's ponchos, hand-made silver items and other objects from Guatemala; special wooden handicrafts from Spanish Honduras and Costa Rica and the world famous molas from the San Blas Islands off the coast of Panama.

Champagne also revealed that he and Archie Diebold, Secretary treasurer of the citizens association, had signed a contract with J. C. Monk, to use his new brick building which is located on Highway 90 a short distance west of the old weigh station.

Original plan was to lease the Ortle building on Coleman Avenue. Actually, it was the willingness of Ed Ortle to make his building available to the senior citizens that made it possible for Gaudet and the others to work out plans to form a corporation to operate the Thieves Market.

Decision to move to Highway 90 was the general feeling that such a location would attract more transient traffic and in turn call greater attention to the town of Waveland.

Champagne also revealed that the group now has a very imposing array of Mexican imports and he is hopeful that when the market opens in the first week in February they will also have on hand imports from Hong Kong, Taiwan, Singapore, the Philippines and Central America.

In addition to imports the Thieves Market will handle on a consignment basis any type of item an individual or firm wishes to offer. Any interested party may contact Champagne, Archie Diebold, or Clayton Seeley for full details.

Ask the man who has electric heating

It is impossible to put into words the kind of real comfort and convenience you'll enjoy with electric heating. Only someone who has electric heating in his home can tell you how it compares with other types... for cleanliness, quietness, and uniformity in warmth. And electric heating is economical to install and operate.

If you would like to get the facts first hand, our Residential Representatives will be glad to put you in touch with someone in your neighborhood who has and is enjoying electric heat in his home.

Don't take our word for it... ask the man who has one!
